THE TOMICH HOTEL

The hotel

Our hotel is the perfect Highland hideaway in a stunning part of the country, with the wild and remote glens offering magnificent scenery in an area rich in natural heritage and steeped in history.

Situated on the edge of the beautiful Glen Affric National Nature Reserve the hotel's traditional stone building dates back to the 1800's when it was the Hunting Lodge for Lord Tweedmouth's Guisachan Estate.

It has been sympathetically transformed into a comfortable and friendly 3 star hotel retaining many of the original features from the days of the Victorian hunting era. Blazing log fires help make the atmosphere comfortable and cosy throughout.
